The state banks, also, which are chartered by the various state governments, are subject to similar supervision and control by state bank officials. In addition banks in many places have long maintained voluntary clearing house associations which enforce even closer supervision over their

Bankers Favor Public Supervision Present laws adequately enforced contain ample provisions for govern ment supervision. Bankers univer sally believe in strong, capable banking departments manned by officials with the discretion and courage to enforce these laws and act under them as the common welfare demands. They be lieve that these public officials should be paid sufficient salaries to command the services of men of character, ability and a resolute spirit of public service.
They believe also that the banking departments should be kept free from all political or other special influence order to be able to act at all times with single-minded independence solely for the benefit of the public interest. Although banks in the United States operating under state or national char ters are thus subject to supervision of public authority, they are strictly pri vate business enterprises. They are owned by their stockholders and administered by officials chosen through the boards of directors which their stockholders elect. No bank is owned or operated by the United States Government, nor, with one small exception in a western state, by any state government. The function of government in banking is to promote and enforce careful banking administration through the system of examination and supervision which I have described. This however, does not relieve the individual depositor from the necessity of judging and choosing carefully as to his banking relations, just as in his other business or professional relations. He must inquire for himself into the character and type of institution and men he shall do business with, satisfying himself as to their reputaelement of safety and dependability in any human institution.

Keeping in mind the advisability of grouping these three classes of vegetables, draw off the rows you propose to devote to each of the plants on your list, giving each kind the necessary room for best development. Several plantings of many kinds of vegetables are advisable in order to insure harvesting over a long period. For this reason, successive plantings of corn, tomatoes, peas, beans, lettuce and others should be marked clearly on the

The planting chart serves as a picture of the garden-to-be even before spading and preparation of the soil are begun. It should show clearly what, where and when each vegetable is to be planted. It should be preserved as a record of the dates and amounts harvested so it can be used in following years as a guide to an even better garden. The mistakes in culture, scarcity or over-abundance of each kind of vegetable as recorded on the chart, are the best teachers of the proper procedure for the next season.

THE GOOD WORK GOES ON The desire of the people of Eastern Michigan to have the Conservation Department of the state retain the fish hatchery in Grayling is so gen-eral and the sentiment so much in favor that there has been almost a stampede of protest against its abandonment. Newspapers all over eastern and northern Michigan have been strong against the plans of the Department, Also Chambers of Commerce and other organizations and many individuals of influence have taken the matter up with the State department in behalf of keeping the Grayling hatchery in operation.

Only last week a number of peti-tion blanks were received at the Avalanche office in which it is requested that the Department re-consider its plans on the matter. These petitions were circulated all over eastern Michigan, we understand, and no doubt Governor Brucker has been swamped with them.

Following is a copy of a personal letter written to Governor Brucker by our old friend Sandy McKay, quite similar to many others that have been sent out voluntarily to the state authorities. They certainly deserve sincere consideration and should carry much influence. Mr. McKay's letter reads as follows: West Branch, Mich.,

March 3, 1931 Hon, Wilbur Brucker, Lansing, Mich.

*Dear Governor:

My attention has been called the controversy the Conservation De-partment is having with the citizens of Grayling over the Fish Hatchery. and it appears to me a grave mistake is taking place at this time, if the contemplated plans are carried out.

Why rob this part of the state of one of its greatest attractions, namely the Fish Hatchery at Gray-ling. I have personally sent many tourists to Grayling to see the trout at the Hatchery, and the sight of these trout really meant more to some tourists than any event in their whole trip into Northeastern Mich-

I personally know the history of the Grayling hatchery and its loss means much to every county ip Northeastern Michigan. We haven't much to show the tourists when the state advertises for tourists to come up to these parts, but what we have we are all trying to retain and preserve what we have.

I can hardly believe that you can back and see such plans made in opposition to the defense of every visite these narre nothing about the feeling of our good neighbors at Grayling.

I firmly believe this is one of the greatest steps backward committed by the Conservation Commission in many years, and the feeling it has caused will be reactionary.

Certainly you have some power to reigh these matters before such a radical change is made, and it is my wish that you cause a reconsideration

I will thank you for a reply at one Respectfully yours, A. M. MC KAY.

TO RENT

By THOMAS APKLE CLARK Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

The Culver house has been standing for a good many years. It was one of the first houses and one with which I was pret a boy. We though it an elegant place then, for the Cul ver family was one of the oldest cratic in the com munity. Like an such families are had disintegrated

Marriage and death and a desire for thange had each done its work and there was no member of the family left, and the house had passed into other hands.

I walked by it one day recently and there was a "To Rent" sign on the porch and in the window. The house still had character, though there were no modern touches in its architecture. But it was unkompt. Whoever now owned it had not recently spent any money in keeping it in repair, hoping, I suppose, to get a reasonable return upon his investment without sinking inything further in the property

And yet there were great possibilities in the house. Its lines were excellent, its situation attractive, situated as it was far buck from the street eims. A little paint, a few repairs, a clearing up of the yard and a few hours given to trimming the shrub bery and the trees, would have made the place beautiful as it had once been.

As it is, it will stand a long time bear-ing the sign "To Rent." The man who owns it is not a good business man. Grant was a great horse trader in our rural community, and what is more uncommon, he seemed to prosper in the business. He could see more possibilities in a skinny ill-groomed horse than anyone else I have ever known. He would pick up one of these crowbaits, feed him well, curry and brush him until, he used to say he could see his face in the animal's clossy cout, and then sell him to three times what he cost. He be-lieved that if he had anything to sell ie should first put it into the best por sible condition to attract attention He put up no "To Rent" signs on rundown property.

Complaints have been coming in about parties dropping junk articles in the highway east of town, that should have been taken to the dump instead. Drivers of cars say that at times these articles become menaces and dangerous. It does seem as the people would know better than to do these things, but it seems that some people would rather be criminals than decent law-abiding ritizens. Pride for orderliness should be sufficient inspiration to people to want to keep the highway scenery clean and pleasant, as well as make them safe for driving.

After behaving like a lamb since the month of March was ushered in Old Man Winter took charge last Saturday night and did a rushing winter business. A snow storm started that did not let up until the following Tuesday morning. Without doubt it was Michigan's greatest storm of the winter. It is estimated that 18 inches of snow fell in Grayling. Other part of the state, it is reported, got heavi er falls of snow than we did here This was especially true in the west ern part of the state where they are still trying to shovel themselves out in some places. U. S. 27 was about the only thru trunk line highway that was kept open. Traffic was possible from the Ohio border north to Mackinaw City. Most trunk lines running east and west were impossible for travel for several days, but are open again at this time. The are open again at this time. The storm hepe fell upon bare ground, but in the region of the "anow belt," between Alpena and Mancelona there was still the greater part of last winter's snow, so that now it looks as tho it would last far into the aummer. Mild weather since Tucs-day has greatly reduced the snow here so that it looks as tho it wouldn't last long. .

More than 73,000 miles in a New Ford

THE substantial worth of the new Ford is reflected in its good performance, economy and reliability. Its stamina and endurance are particularly apparent in sections where had roads and severe weather put a heavy extra burden on the automobile.

In less than a year a new Ford Tudor Sedan was driven more than seventy-three thousand miles over a difficult route. The operating cost per mile was very low and practically the only expense for repairs was for new piston rings and a new bearing for the generator.

The car carried an average load of 1200 pounds of mail and was driven 250 miles daily. "The Ford has never failed to go when I was ready," writes one of the three mail carriers operating the car. "The starter did the trick last winter even at 34 degrees below zero. The gas runs about 20 miles per gallon. At times I pull a trailer whenever I have a bulky load."

Many other Ford owners report the same satisfactory performance. Every part has been made to endure - to serve you faithfully and well for many thousands of miles.

PRICES OF FORD $430 to $630

F.O.B. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra as small cost. You can purchase a Ford on economical terms through the Authorised Ford Finance Plans of the Universal Credit Company.

FEATURES OF THE NEW FORD

In addition, you save many dollars because of the low first cost of the Ford, low cost of operation and up-keep and low yearly depreciation.

LIGHTS > AVALUE of NEW YORK

The movies have long been taking stars from the stage. Now the stage is taking stars from the movies. It really is very simple. Theatrical producers said to themselves:

"Why not make the movies help rather than hurt our business? The novies have spent huge fortunes making the pictures of certain person nown in every city, town and hamlet. Naturally, the country in general would like to see these stars in peron; see them check in at the hotel stroll along the street; take a cortain call; come out the state door. it one thing about a moving picture: the stars are not home-grown: they are canned goods, and you can't meet them at the stage door after the show. So let's play the human ele-ment. There should be money in it."

So saying, the theatrical producer proceeded to make the road to Holly-wood a two-way street. I suppose they talked to the movie stars of the thrill of appearing before an audience which paid to get in, rather than an audience of camera men, who were paid to be there; of the sweet sound of ap-plause; of flowers handed over the footlights. Anyhow, there are a number of moving picture performers who are trying their hands at becoming actors and actresses.

There is a big difference in the two games. There are no retakes on the stage. There is no retouching. There ual sleighride of the Grayling, High conveyed the merry party on a me-morable excursion. The foremost is a prompter, but no director with a megaphone. And the perfect thing must be done night after night, not sleigh was gloriously distancing the eaught just once under prepared conothers when, with a mighty crash ditions as it is in the movies. Although Harlemites are inveterate gamblers, there has never, so far as I can discover, been a roulette wheel there. The game of policy, now known as "numbers," is the most popular form of gambling and next to that comes dice shooting. The police don't bother much about the card clubs, but they will not let a dice house get started, if they can help it. The reason is that it draws all the crooked element, colored and white, and there are too many stabbings, cuttings and shootings. I am told that there is only one dice house in Harlem and that it ment. Crap games in private apart ments, between friends, or supposed friends, always go on.

Those persons who find boxing bouts duli affairs, as many of them are, should try a new system. They should go to the smaller clubs and, instead of looking, listen. Dr. Frederick W. Hodge tells m that he believes the oldest apple trees in the United States are to be found in the Manzano region of New Mexico. about 1656. In the wooded portions of Ohlo, wild apple trees still are to be found, planted by the man known as "Appleseed Johnny," The story is that he used to wander around entifie apples and carrying a cane. When he finished an apple, he hored a hole in the ground with his cane and planted seeds. I might try that in Central park.

TAGGING DOBS NOT INJURE TROUT

Trout are not injured by the metal tage used in trout tagging experiments, according to the Institute for Fisheries Research.

During trout tagging operations on the Little Beaver Creek during the fall of 1930, large numbers of fish already tagged were recaptured. Only three or four trout were found dead and none of these had been tagged. No fish were found on which the tags had torn loose and there was no apparent infection about the attachment of the tag.

D PLOMATS and ing steadily and persistemly, have brought about an accord tween France and Itaty on the question of relative naval strength, and the probable result will be that the three power Lon-don navni trenty will become a five-power A. Henderson pact. Thus the French and Itahans will give up the idea of starting a building program that would compel Great Britain to increase her naval forces under the "escalator" clause of the treaty, and the United States and Japan would be relieved of the fear that their relative strength would not be maintained without a lively resumption of building. Arthur Henderson, British foreign secretary, was most active in the final stages of the negotiations between France and Italy, making trips to Rone and Paris, and is given credit for ex-cellent work. But it is admitted that the groundwork for the agreement was Inid by Hugh S. Gibson, American am bassador to Belgium, who for several months had been laboring to bring the dispute to an end Acting under per-sonal orders from President Hoover, he hold a series of private talks with Myssolini, Tardien, Briand and others, and transmitted their various proposits to Rome and Parls and limity to the British.

sists in a long term loan to Italy, to be made by French and American bankers, which will really be a wardebt moratorium in disguise. The Pas-cist government will receive perhaps three and a half tillion dollars, which sum, it is said, will " save Italy from bankraptey and not the country on its feet. Specifically, the loan will be used to retire and convert internal debt obligations, $1,820,000,000 of which fell due on October 1 fast. Mussolini's previous efforts to obtain long term loans from American and French bankers had failed because, largely, of the naval dispute with Frances.

White the terms of the Franco-Rai-Jan agreement were temporarily with held from the public, it was learned in Paris that it provides that French taival superiority over Italy be reduced from 240.00 tons to 190,000 tons, most of the reduction coming from projected submarines and supersubmarines. It was agreed that the battleship tonnage allotted at the Washington naval conference would not be used for ships of more than 25,000 tons. France obtrined the right to build three 22.300 ton vessels of the super-craiser type

In return for superiority in global or total tonnage, it is believed that France gives Ifaly a slight superiority in light cruisers and torpedo destroy ers, but retains supremacy in subma rines. It was understood that Italy de-manded the sacrifice of super-subma-rines in the French program and that France made the concession because ly, it is understood, agreed on parity in 10,000 ton cruisers.

With a fillbuster in the senate and VV rather uproarious gaicty in the house, the seventy first congress come to an end at noon, March 4. During its life it corried out fairly well Pres. It is unnecessary to recount these disputes, for every one is familiar with them. CHAIRMAN RASKOB told the Democratic national committee at its meeting in Washington all about the wet policy which he thought the party should adopt, but said he would not ask action on his suggested platform until the next meeting. Dry members from the South vigorously opposed Baskob's views or any consideration of them by the committee. It was decided that a $10,000,000 campaign fund should be raised.

OW bid for the general contract on the Hoover dam and power plant in Boulder canyon was submit-ted in Denver by a combination of western construction firms—the Six Companies, Inc. of San Francisco, and the government employers recommend. the government engineers recommended that this bid of $48,890,995.50 be accepted by Secretary of the Interior Wilbur. Work on the project, the biggest engineering job ever undertaken in this country, probably will be start-ed before the end of March. Government officials, although asserting work would be hastened unemployment conditions in the South-west would be relieved, warned workers against a general migration to the Nevada-Arizona line-dam site as there were 10.000 laborers on hand at Las Vegas, Nev. Estimates for construction forces ranged from 2,000 to 2,500 men at work at one time when the program gets into full stride.

The Jadwin plan of flood control formulated after the disastrous Missis-sippl valley flood of 1927 was the army officer's most important work. The plan called for expenditure of $325,000,000 and was opposed in congress, but finally passed with admin-

VICEROY LORD IRWIN and Mahatma Gandhi, both making con-cessions, reached an agreement for peace in India, and the civil disobedience movement that had lasted for a year came to an end. The Nationalists looked on the pact as a triumph for the doctrine of non-violence. The British government, though it yields con-siderable, probably gets none the worst of the bargain. By the terms of the agreement, it is understood, the Na-tionalists abandon their resistance movement and will work for qualified dominion status in the second round table conference. In return, their im-prisoned members will be released and most of the confiscated property will he returned; they are permitted to conduct boycotts that do not aim spe-cifically at British goods, and the poor natives along the const are given the right to make their own salt.

The most important gain for the British was the point in which the Nationalists agreed to confine themselves at the next round table con-ference to the specified scope of constitutional questions elucidated by the first round table meeting in London. This commits Gandhi to the principle of a federation of Indian responsibility, but with British safeguards covering finance, defense, foreign affairs, the position of apinorities and the discharge of India's national debts.
